:: :: The :: :: Washington Recald

Published Every Morning in the Year by The Washington Herald Company 425-427-429 Eleventh St. Washington, D. C. J. E. Rice, President and General Manager

Phone: Main 3300—All Departments SUBSCRIPTION RATES — BY CARRIER In the District of Columbia!

Daily and Sunday, 1 Month, 40c; 1 Year, $4.80 Outside the District of Columbia: Daily and Sunday, 1 Month, 50c; 1 Year, $6.00

SUBSCRIPTION BY MAIL IN ADVANCE Daily and Sunday, 1 Month, 50c; 1 Year, $5.00 Daily Only, 1 Month, 40c; 1 Year, $3.50

Member of the Audit Bureau of Circulation BRANCH OFFICES:

London. Eng., 124 Pall Mall, S. W. 1. Paris: 420 Rue St. Honore. Berlin: Under den Linden, t. New York: 225 Fifth Ave.; Chicago: 900 Mailers Bldg.: Los Angeles: 401 Van Nuys Bldg. BENJAMIN & KENTNOR COMPANY National Advertising Representatives

Entered as Second-Class Matter, Postoffice, Washington. D. C.

SATURDAY, JULY 22, 1919.

PERHAPS Police Court magistrates and the public in general have judged unjustly many excellent citizens. Gentlemen taken into custody of the law while engaged in the most unusual antics have pleaded, nevertheless, that they were guiltless of aiding in violations of the Volstead law-that their condition was not caused by alcohol vile stuff. Judges have smiled as they imposed sen-

Now comes a famous physician, Dr. Leonard G. Roundtree, of Rochester, Minn., with the assertion that it is possible to get drunk on plain water. It is only necessary to drink enough to get all the disagreeable sensations, at least, of a prolonged period of intoxication.

The trouble has been that the average human being could not swallow sufficient quantities. But Dr. Roundtree has utilized an extract taken from one of the small ductless glands at the bottom of the brain to do away with this difficulty. By using this nostrum the individual can keep on drinking until he is too drunk to raise the cup to his lips.

Dr. Roundtree's experiences doubtless will prove valuable to physicians. We presume that he is interested in the matter from the scientific standpoint alone. But if it were possible for him to produce large quantities of this extract from the ductless glands we see no reason why he should not reap a large fortune. And in no way would the letter of Mr. Volstead's statute be violated.

Necessity is the mother of invention. Perhaps the Minnesota physician is a pioneer in a new era-a time in which bootleggers will charge ten dollars a quart for plain water.

Perhaps, also the old-time country physician was wiser than he knew. One of his favorite bits of advice was that the patient, whose ailment he could not exactly diagnose, drink prodigious quantitles of water. It may be that he understood the practice before Dr. Roundtree evolved the theory.

CITIES and villages of the United States are feeling the effects of the strikes. The fact of these industrial disturbances was not apparent immediately to the average citizen. Trains ran about as usual and there seemed no impressive prospect of a coal shortage. The citizen went about his business as usual.

But at last the entire populace is made aware of the feverish conditions in these two industries because of personal inconvenience. Orders for coal filled. Railroad trains do not run on schedule.

The commuter to and from work, for instance, reads of the disturbances in his morning newspaper without very intense feelings. He tries to discuss them intelligently with the man who sits beside him. But the trouble is far away from his daily life. Then, suddenly, his train is discontinued. These strikes at once become the most important incidents in his horizon.

But, after all, the inconvenience which the citizen suffers will be temporary-even if the strikes last for a long time.

Necessity is the mother of invention. The railroads will find some way to run their trains so long as there is a profitable demand for such zervice. Somebody will find a way to heat houses, so long as there is a public willing to pay for heat.

Groups may disturb the even tenor of life in the United States for a time. They can not expect to do so indefinitely. The American people are too resourceful. They have found ways to meet emergencies in the past. There is no reason to suppose they can not do so now and in the future.

Takes Proper Stand.

PRESIDENT HARDING has stated with convincing firmness his position on a general amnesty for war criminals. He is anxious to give all due consideration to individual cases but he will have no blanket pardons, giving liberty alike to those guilty without excuse, to those guilty with extenuating circumstances and to those who may not be guilty at all. The President is eager to temper justice with mercy-but he is not willing to let the natural dictates of his heart do away with all semblance of justice.

Most of all, the President is not likely to be swayed by dramatically staged appeals-such, for example, as picketing the White House gates with women and children. The presence of these pickets is more apt to steel his heart-against pardons in fear lest the people of the United States, who have confdence in his impartiality, may feel that he has been influenced unduly.

The question of the pardon of political prisoners is one to be determined by facts rather than by empty eloquence, by a knowledge of actual conditions rather than by hysterical tears. Without any question whatsoever there are men in the Federal prisons for political offenses who should stay there. Outside they would be up to more mischief. Their freedom would bring relief and happiness to no families.

On the other hand, it is possible that some men now in jail would be more valuable to the community outside. Perhaps their families need them. Perhaps they were useless citizens, for the most nart, who allowed wartime hysteria to ruin Beir better judgment. Such cases Mr. Harding is willing.

SATURDAY MORNING

But each case is to be judged on its own merits.

The people of the United States do not care to have it settled on any other basis. Mr. Harding has assured the country, in his conversation with the delegation of prominent men and women who pleaded for a general amnesty this week, that he stands for justice with a liberal amount of mercy, but not for mercy with a scant amount of justice.

Action Necessary.

T IS difficult indeed for District health inspectors to cover the entire field. A correspondent of The Washington Herald sends an account of an experience which speaks for itself.

It should be brought more forcibly to the public attention. Hence we take the liberty of repeat-

The other day I saw a colored peddler selling watermelons on the street. Having located a customer he took a knife and cut a "plug" out of the melon. Instead of cutting a piece of the plug off with his knife to taste it and make sure it was O. K., he took the plug in hand, lifted it to his mouth, took a bite and then put the plug Back into the melon and sent it up to the house. I think the health department still as a little ground to cover."

District Building without delay. The health of the people requires that some unpleasant examples be

THE public can not fail to appreciate and apregards the rail strike. Few, outside the ranks of the railroad workers themselves, have any interest in the wages paid car and locomotive repair men. The public, of course, wishes labor paid in proportion to the general prosperity of the United States. and that they wouldn't think of drinking any of the It wishes the American standard of living kept high. But it is supremely interested in keeping trains running.

If the workmen and the railroads can settle their difficulties without interfering with rail service few care how long the strike continues. But when mails become uncertain, deliveries of food products haphazard, and passenger schedules disrupted there is an insistent demand that the government step into the situation-with troops if necessary

The railroads are servants of the public. If hey are sick they must be cured without delay. The present situation is intolerable. It is becoming more and more intolerable every day. The newspapers are filled with accounts of actual violence accompanying the strike-efforts on the part of strikers to prevent the orderly operation of trains. In no less than six States troops are held in reserve, ready for action at a moment's notice.

Strikebreakers, it is charged, have been pro rided with arms with which not only to defend themselves but to stir up more trouble. This must stop if we are to have an immediate prospect of

Perhaps the unions are at fault. Perhaps the railroad companies are at fault. Perhaps, and we presume this is most probable, both are at fault They are fighting like naughty children who have been sent to the corner store to bring home groceries and meat for the family dinner. While they fight the provisions are apt to spoil in the hot sun. All the urchins deserve a sound spanking from

The President indicates that Uncle Sam is cutting a fine long birch lash with which to inflict punishment if the quarrel does not end before

The Worth of Straw Votes.

WE ALWAYS regard straw ballots with suspicion. Only the discounted its picion. Only the disgruntled take occasion to vote. The Literary Digest reports that the first returns of its nation-wide poll on prohibition shows a majority of two to one against the Volstead act. The unthinking are liable to deduce that the preponderant sentiment of the United States is wet. There is no occasion for such a conclusion.

The poll conducted by this magazine gives the dissatisfied an opportunity to express themselves. They have been especially noisy of late and seem willing to neglect no means of howling over the injustice heaped upon their aching brows.

Those satisfied with the present dry law, and we are convinced still that they represent a tremendous majority of the American people, have no reason to make any effort to express their satisfaction The goal toward which they fought for many years has been reached. We have prohibition and they are satisfied. They only want it enforced and are confident that it can be.

The Literary Digest poll shows only that there are a certain number of people in the United States who oppose a rigid prohibition law. There never has been any doubt but that this was the case. We hear from these folks on every hand. They are so much noisier than the prohibition element that the public is in danger of being deluded into the conclusion that they constitute an absolute majority. If the question ever is placed before the voters with the actual fate of the law at stake we are confident that there would be an entirely different result. Those satisfied with the dry law would overwhelm the others.

The poll, without doubt, is honestly conducted; But it decides nothing. Hence the satisfied will not vote in any great numbers.

"Jazz is going to kill the country," says a Southern revivalist. This poor old country certainly stands up under a lot of killing. Other things that have killed the country during the past year are: Bobbed hair, short skirts, modern dancing, cigarettes, prohibition, strikes, rouge, flappers.

Church in Washington reports an increase in receipts since several pretty women were appointed to take up the collection. Yes, the pretty women do know how to get it.

The Herald in New York These Hotels and Newsstands in New York City Have The Herald on Sale:

HOTELS

Belmont Biltmore Breslin

Imperial Martinique McAlpin Prince George Ritz-Calston McAlpin Savoy Murray Hill Vanderbilt Pennsylvania Waldorf NEWSSTANDS

Woolworth Station St. & 6th Av. Building Hotaling's, News Boy, 32d 200 Fifth Ave. Times Square St. & 6th Ave.

MPRESSIONS BY

ley. New faces! New p day marks the twelfth anniversary of my arrival in this modern Bagdad. Huber's Museum on Fourteenth street, with its champion checkerplayer and wrinkled, old, skull-capped ecturer was flourishing.

The old Bartholdi Inn, never gay until 5 a. m. was a high spot. And at 6 the sun swept through the lat-ticed windows of Jack's to streak the alcoholic facial pallor of the revelers. Broadway was living hard and dan-gerously. Just as it coes now—but Kid McCoy had his famous Rathskeller and the Arcadia rang with ribald songs. In old Martin's each afternoon one saw the silver-haired Frenchman with black goatee read-

Instances of this sort should be reported at the istrict Building without delay. The health of the opper requires that some unpleasant examples be ade.

Uncle Sam Getting Opt the Switch.

HE public can not fail to appreciate and approve of President Harding's position as prove of President Harding's position as despite his huge size was the essence of the source of the special provided in the standard provided in the other hand fashioned the about the other hand fashioned the other hand fashioned

In the late afternoon the crowds waited abou: Forty-second street and Broadway to see Caruso come to his hotel from the Metropolitan — his green hat cocked to one side and his cane carried military fashion. "Nick the Greek" was blowing in his moun-tainous roll won at the gaming table— —a chunky, squat fellow, who bought out cafes for the night.

The stage door Johnnies were cluttering about the Casino to see the black-haired, laughing girl who flung her kisses so recklessly over the footlights, and whose tragic suithe footlights, and whose tragio sui-cide later filled the first pages. Pete Daley's eccentricities filled the bar rooms with laughter. And the town was still discussing the Stanford White murder. Caruso, Diamond Jim! Pete Daley! They and their kind gave Broadway its color and romance. No one has come as yet to fill their shoes.

Tillie has for six years been arne. After the dishes have been number of Spanish dances to the lio has the art of spurning the of-fers of marriage and still retaining taurant was about to close Tillie to present her husband and she did. He is the hat check boy in the cafe and they have been married seven years. Next week in Harlem they are opening a Span'sh cafe of their tal in raising large sums of money for Polish relief and in laying the foundations of the present Republic of Poland by working for its recognition as an independent nation.

In September, 1917, just before his

In September, 1917, just before his concert tour was to have begun he cancelled it entirely, and from that time on until the armistice was signed he spent practically all his days in Washington or New York and all his nights on sleepers going between these places. He was the heart and the brain of the great Potential was the heart and the brain of the great Potential was the heart and the brain of the great Potential was the heart and the brain of the great Potential was the heart and the brain of the great Potential was th lish movement which sent an army of Poles to France in the fall of 1918 in Poles to France in the fail of 1918 in time to do some notable fighting in the last months of the war. Directly the armistice was signed he started for Europe, but he had no sooner arrived in London than the British government requested him to go to Warsaw and see if he could not or-Warsaw and see if he could not or-ganize there some sort of stable gov-ernment so that Poland might prop-crly be represented at the peace con-ference. He was sent to Danzig aboard the British cruiser Concord ith an escort of destroyers.

Paderewski organized the first real overnment Poland had had in more than a hundred years, becoming prime minister and taking the portprime minister and taken prime minister and taken folio of foreign affairs.

folio of foreign affairs.

after he had retired to private life after he had retired to private life.

he went to his place at Paso Robles, in California. where he stayed for

The Friend of the People

This department is conducted by The Heraid to answer questions of its readers. All questions will be answered in these columns. Address letters to the Friend of the People MAKES OF AUTOMOBILES.

Can you tell me how many makes of cars there are in the United States? Also their names. I do not want the styles of the cars, but the makes. C. J. D'B.

You may obtain this information by consulting Thomas' Register of American Manufacturers in the Library of Congress. It would require too much space to print every make of car now in use in the United States. To-get the other information you desire apply to the American Automobile Association, 1108 Sixteenth street northwest.

PHONOGRAPH MANUFACTURERS.

To the Friend of the Feoure:

J would like to know how many manufac-turers of phonograph records there are, and their names and addresses. C. J. A.

names and addresses.

C. J. A.

There are ten listed in the Manufacturers' Directory, they are as follows: The American Phonograph Company, 3 West Thirty-fifth street, New York City. The Operaphone Manufacturing Corporation. 200 Fifth avenue. New York City. The Wisconsin Chair Company. Pt. Washington, Wis. The Victor Talking Machine Company. Camden. N. J. The Brunawick-Balke-Collender Company, 29 West Thirty-second street, New York City. The Columbia Phonograph Company, Bridgeport, Conn. The Starr Piano Company, Richmond, Ind. International Insulating Company, Springfield. Mass. Thomas A. Edison, Inc., West Orange, N. J. The General Insulate Company, Brooklyn, N. Y.

HOUSE BY THE SIDE OF THE ROAD.

There are hermit souls that live withdrawn, in the peace of their self-content; There are gouls like stars, that dwell apart, In a fellowless firmament: There are prisoner souls that blaze their paths, where highways never ran; But let me live by the side of the road And be a friend to man. Let me live in a house by the side of the road, Where the race of men go by—The men who are good and the men who are bad, as good and as bad as I; I would not sit in the acorner's seat, or hurl the cynic's ban; Let me live in a house by the side of the road and be a friend to man.

I see from my house by the side of the road, by the side of the highway of life, the men who press with the ardor of hope, the men who are faint with strife. But I turn not away from their smiles nor their tears—Both parts of an infinite plan; Let me live in a house by the side of the road and be a friend to man.

I know there are brook-gladdened meadows ahead, and mountains of wearisome height; That the road passes on through the long afternoon, and stretches away to the night. But still I rejoice when travelers rejoice, and weep with the trangers that moan, nor live in my house by the side of the road, like a man who dwells alone.

Let me live in my house by the side of the road, where the race of men go by. They are good, they are weak they are strong. Wise, foolish—so am I. Then why should I sit in the scorners reat, or hurl the cynics ban. Let me live in my house by the side of the road and be a friend to man."

It was written by Sam Walter Foss. You may obtain a copy from any dealer in books; the correct title of the poem is "The House by the Side of the Road."

To the Friend of the People:

Can you tell me the highest temperature recorded by the Weather Bureau here for August 5, 6 and 7, 1918? Also what was the highert temperature for August, 1917, and on what day?

H. L. G.

On August 5 the temperature was 98; August 6, 106; August 7, 104. The highest temperature recorded in August. 1917, was on August 6, the temperature was 106.

ST. SWITHIN'S DAY.

Please inform me, through the columns of your paper what is the date of "St. Swithin's Day" and the legend concerning it. July 15 is "St. Swithin's Day." The poem is as follows:

"St. Swithin's Day, if thou dost rain, For forty days it will remain; St. Swithin's Day, if thou be fair, For forty days 'twill rain na mair."

Open Court Letters to the Herald

The American Home. To the Editor The Washington Herald: D's and fewer would-be F. F. V's we could have a country of true patriots. In a country so largely patriots. In a country so largely who held bombproof jobs during the controlled by unfair political war. A great many of both these two manipulation, where even our conwhere it suits their selfish purpose, the very word 'democracy" is low anyone profanation in such a connection. cause we happen to owe an hone debt. ANOTHER AMERICAN. the sons who are a constituent part of his loved country more than return to America to take up his piano recitals where he dropped them five years ago, then giving to the public the impression that it would not hear this great planist again.

Paderewski came to America pring of 1915 to arouse in America partners asympathy for Partners asympathy for Partners asympathy for Partners and partners asympathy for Partners and partners and partners asympathy for Partners and partners and partners asympathy for Partners and partners and partners and partners and partners are proposed to twas approached by But just let a goat do any damage, and with use from the grievance grows:

As to feed, a doe can be kept on one-eighth the feed it takes for a cow.

Again there is often the objection to cows because many families do not use so much milk as they are partners asympathy for Partners and partners are proposed to twas approached by But just let a goat do any damage, and with the proposed and with each repet tion the grievance grows:

As to feed, a doe can be kept on cow.

Again there is often the objection to cows because many families do not use so much milk as they are partners and partners are proposed to twas approached by But just let a goat do any damage, and with the proposed to twas approached by But just let a goat do any damage, as tranger with "Where is your hat we without suffering loss.

But just let a goat do any damage, as tranger with where is your hat without suffering loss.

But just let a goat do any damage, as tranger with the spour and with it is told, repeated, and with each repet tion the grievance grows:

As to feed, a doe can be kept on cow.

Again there is often the objection to cow because many families on the proposed and with a spour and wi plosive bomb-shell. There is some-thing sadly wrong with such a civ-ilization, and it is well that honest itself as such and not allow treach-ery to longer mask as loved "pa-

THOMAS A. KEMPIS.

government

Government Clerks.

troitism."

To the Editor. The Washington Herald The Herald of Monday had two letters in the Open Court letters that were of interest and full of good thought. I think the one by H. B. F. was the best one I have ever read in this department. What he says about the Socialism of Woodrow Wilson leaves nothing to add and I can only say in the language of the ruralist
"Them's My Sentiments." But I would like to add a thought to the letter written by "American," he does not like the idea of the clockwatching, crocheting clerks getting a bonus at the present time. Now, if I understand the bonus bill that is now before the Senate, a great many of these will come in for the soldier bonus when it passes. Take the yos-manettes and marienetts, most of whom could not get in the government service because they could not stand the civil service examination and had in California, where he stayed for over a year.

Paderew's' career as a pianist ham not been an easy one. When he was a half-grown lad he studied at the Warsaw Conservatory. At the agree of the made a tour of Russia and failed miserably. He was practically alone in his struggle as his father was exilled in Siberia for political offenses when he was 3 years old.

Paderewski's mother died when he was a baby. Several years after his failure he took up music once more in earnest. Later on he was married and his wife died in a year, leaving him a baby. He plunged more seriously into his work and went to Vienna. Many tales are told of the earnestness with which Paderewski studied. Though fame came to him, he still feels that his life has been a failure, for it has been a failure for it has a failure for the house and the failure for the house and the f

Communications will not over turned values specific request for such testers is made and stamps inclosed. Letters about be type-written whenever possible. Communications extremely difficult to read will not be considered. No communications signed—ith fictitious names will be unnecessarily described.

true soldier we also owe a debt to the our country, and we should not alto rob the Treasury beconquest or love of the vic-is name. Any mother would life justified in deserting the of her little ones if he did dairy herds, for they are indispenfather of her little ones if he did dairy herds, for they are indispen-not hold their lives as sacred as sible for city dwellers, but it does could never eat seem to me that there is no good t have reason why people with a shed, a

Holland safely protect earth's most conspicuous example of world discord, while many of those in our country were treated as traitors without having the least part in the srife involving our country? Holland has merely kept her white mands free from stains in that immaculately clean little native home nest of her love-bird, the "Stoic." Even the most savage of earth's barbarians respects her love of particular of homes, under a law of concert stage. This news, of importance to the international music world, was revealed recently as the noted Pole started for Europe, accompanied by Mme. Paderewski. They will rest at their chalet called Riond Bosson on the shore of Lake Geneva will rest at their chalet called Riond Bosson on the shore of Lake Geneva to take up his piano recitals where a perfect right to take up his piano recitals where and there. Hogs also like to root things up—literally—and, for that matter, who expects to turn any kind of livestock into the yard or garden without suffering loss. But just let a goat do any damage, and with a suffering loss.

spring of 1915 to arouse in America make much advance with home ideals fostered like that. All pacifists were not dealt with alike that that time was the battlefield of the German and Russian armies. He had two concert tours, in 1915-16 and in 1916-17, and at the same time organized the Poles in America into a great body loyal to the allies. He also was instrumental in raising large sums of money for Polish relief and in 1916-17 and at the same time organized the Poles in America into a great body loyal to the allies. He also was instrumental in raising large sums of money for Polish relief and in 1916-17 and at the same time organized the Poles in America into a great body loyal to the allies. He also was instrumental in raising large sums of money for Polish relief and in 1916-17 and at the same time organized the Poles in America patriotism can p one. If managed with a little tact this can be made pleasant and prof-table for all concerned.

More frequently we are getting orders and inquiries from parents of delicate children for milk does. and when such come it is a pleasure to refer them to Dr. Wiley, or the American Medical Association for their opin'on—based upon experience of the cleanly, nontuberculin little milk goat, fast winning her way to popular favor.

MRS. W. B. DOAK.
Clifton Stat'on, Va.

Why It Rained. To the Editor. The Washington Herald:

The failure of the weather bureau to forecast the weather at times with little better success

I lived for twelve years on the I lived for twelve years on the Pacific Coast and during that time I observed how often the high tides at the "equinoxes" and the "solstices" were accompanied by we ascend above the earth's sur- a drink of water.

But, in actual fact, they are all as face, but later experiments have shown that beyond a certain height the air again rises in tem-perature.

If this be true and the six is in a torrent causing cloudbursts and floods? I know that this theory will be "hooted" at by those who work in the weather bureau and who bewere in their places I would try were in their places I would try to find a way to give people timely warning of tornadoes, cloudbursts and all the other atmospheric phenomena that they now seem to be unable to foretell.

If some weather expert should

If some weather expert should chance to read this theory I hope he will either prove the fallacy of it or investigate whether there are atmospheric tides.

Meaning of Anarchist. the Editor, The Washington Herald:

Your editorial on Cathal Brugha. of July 18, was a splendid philosophical grasp of the psychology of the man and the Irish situation. In your editorial of July 17 entitled "Treatment of Prisoners" you did not exercise the same breadth of concept.

This must be due to the mis-understanding worked up against our politicals. Bouvet as a cracked-brained an-archist. That he was cracked-brained might be readily admitted. open to grave doubts. If a man is a real anarchist he would not assassin for liberty. He might, if he was what is called a commun-ist-anarchist, but a communist is not an anarchist at all, as one must be an individualist to be as archist, and our capitalist moters are the finest anarchists in the world. Anarchist is bourgeois, and labor anarchism is a joke. The labor probably have been a slave with his master's name on it but for the development of capitalism.

ers now confined in the U.S. would resent the demand that they labor in order to exist." Th Oklahoma cotton raiser, Mennonite farmers and lumberjacks are quite used to High-salaried jobs are already pre-empted and craft unions too selfish with their lawer, as the in-itiation fees and dues to many of the union might result disastrously; as in Herrin. One or more of the prisoners are editors and clergymen and often labor as hard as other forms of few of the most fortunate, and to mployment.

None of our political prisoners was of the type and kind of Bouvet but many were of the type of Cathal Brugha in so far as being dreamers of a more perfect society on the morrow, others were simply pacifists who were opposed to all and any forms of violence. F. B. D.

Peaceful Pension Building. To the Editor. The Washington Herald: Why do people generally associate the word "war" with the idea of strife? My own observation has been leads me to ask space to present a theory which I have held for ten or more years. their fighting on the field. When you meet up with a fussy, nagging man, he is usually some cranky civilian.

These remarks are inspired by the wave of alarm that spread through the Pension Building when it was an-nounced that the War Department had taken charge the very word This led to the following conclu- "war" was used to "conjure" with.

We were even informed that, if a mere height the air again rises in temperature.

If this be true and the air is officials are having the times of their confinition officials are having to affairs of slovakia. The world is organizing that the distribution of the confinition of the confinition

The Mexican sub-chaser "Tecate" has jeft San Diego, Cal., carrying regard to the herds of the almost ex-tinct southern fur seal and southern sea ofter on the islands off the west coast of Lower California. It is hoped that international co-operation pe-tween the United States and Mexico tween the United States and Mexico for the protection of these seals may result from the work of the expedi-tion, says Dr. Barton W. Everman chairman of the committee on Pacific marine life of the American Associa-tion for the Advancement of Science. Records show that in the years 1808 to 1811 more than 202,000 fur 1808 to 1811 more than 202,000 fur seals were taken on the Farallone Islands, besides thousands from other Islands in these waters. Before 1808 more than 22,000 sea otters had been taken from this same region. These species are now believed to be nearly extinct, but recent reports indicate that some remnants may still retain. The scientists of this expedition will explore the islands off the Lower California coast thoroughly. Motion pictures will be made of birds, makes, mammals and insects as well as of the seals. Skulls and fossils will be collected of the animals which have passed beyond the point of posing passed beyond the point of posing even for a slow-motion movie. As these islands have been but little ex-plored, it is thought likely that many new species will be discovered.

The expedition is under the direction of Senor Torreon, of the National Museum of Mexico, and the Mexican government has de-tailed the submarine chaser to carry the explorers. The American or ganization conducting the work the committee on conservation marine life of the Pacific of th Pacific division of the America Association for the Advancement of Science, and the expedition is being sent out under the patronage of the National Geographic Society with which is associated the Scripps Institution of Biological Research, the California Academy of Science. and the San Diego Society of Natural History. Dr. G. Dallas Hanna, secretary of the committee, is 116, 117, 118, 119, 120, 121, 122 and 124 have been located in the spec-trum. His new method of prepar ing photographic plates for spectographic work makes them ten to twenty times as sensitive as for-merly. He also announces the confirmation of a suspected split in the element xenon, into two com-ponents with weights of 128 and 130. It was supposed until recently that all the atoms of an element atomic weight was merely an average of several different kinds of atoms. This accounts for the decimal fretion in the accepted atomiweight of tin. 118.7.

TIN HAS EIGHT ATOMIC Tin has eight different atomic

Mica, the transparent, heat-resisting mineral, familiar to many through its use for windows in heating stoves, has now become so essential in electrical industry that the larger electrical supply manufacturing companies own and operate their own mines.

The potential energy of falling water of the streams in Brazil is estimated to be about three and a quarter-times that of Niagara Falls

There are on the average three earthquakes a day in different parts

"We cannot leave war as a legacy to our children." This is the plea of Frederick J. Libby, head of "No More War" demonstration to be carried out by the people of fourteen nations July 29 and 30 (the eighth anniversary of the out-break of the great war). unions are prohibitive to all but a opposite the State, War and Navy Building in Washngton. Libby, who searned the full horror of war as European commissioner for the American Friends Service Commit-FREUK J. LIBBY thows interna-tional conditions from having lived and traveled in more than a dozen nations, says that the foundation thought of his work

"The abolition of war as an accepted institution is the work of this generation. We do not need to change human nature to accom-plish it. The people who abolished slavery as an accepted institution did not walt to change human nature. War is simply a method. If mankind is not capable of devising some other method of settling disputes between the nations, then mankind will perish.

"Gen. John F. O'Ryan, of the American army, is exactly right.

"The American people can end war in our time if they get on the job."

The world-wide "No More War" This led to the following conclusion: That water in the form of vapor was acted upon by the same attractive forces that caused the high tides at these times, and this vapor was lifted to such great height that it was out of reach of the calculations of the instruments used by the weather bureau and hence their blunders in forecasting the weather at these times.

It was believed for years that It was believed for years that the atmosphere became colder as the strong the weather at these times.

It was believed for years that the atmosphere became colder as the strong the weather at these times.

It was believed for years that the strong the weather at these times.

It was believed for years that the people are getting to strikes, etc., is just nothing compared to a clerk putting on his hat a minute too soon.

And those uniformed that, if a mere civilian was seen putting his hat on in our time if they get on the year. The world-wide "No More War' demonstration this month shows that the people are getting to the that the people are getting to the world-wide "No More War' demonstration this month shows that the people are getting to the world-wide "No More War' demonstration this month shows that the people are getting to the world-wide "No More War' the world-wide "No More W

Timelg Niews World Topics